

International Summer School on Sustainability 2024

Come and join our International Summer School on Sustainability (ISSS)

50:50	Equal focus on theory and practice
30	International students
03	Real life challenges
6+	Professors and experts on sustainability

- Students will work on real-life projects, and profit from virtual and in situ input sessions. They will learn to cooperate in teams and create goal-driven solutions.
- We will encourage 'thinking outside the box', and looking for realistic, application-oriented results.
- 30 international students, 1 company, 4 experienced professors, an organizational support team, and several experts on sustainability and key skills for project management and teamwork come together to learn, experience, share, and implement sustainability concepts.
